Fashion shows provide platform for budding designers to display their creativity and an equal opportunity for the models to showcase their talent in terms of boosting their confidence. The Annual Runway Show is also an effort to bring together best talent and open vast opportunities for young designers. Fashion show is an apt event to promote youth and thus contributing to our goal as an organization.

Theme for 2024; 12th La Classé Annual Runway Show was Panchmahabhoot. Students have worked on the five elements of Panchmahabhoot to create an ensemble that signifies the importance of Earth, Water, Fire, Air & Space.

Students of SIFT conduct a market research and undergo the stages of design processing before they finalize their outfits. An entire ensemble is hand crafted by individual student according to their respective theme. This year marks a new beginning of in-house choreography. An audition was conducted across the various institutes of Suryadatta Group for the Model Hunt to encourage the hidden talents of our students and bring it to limelight.

A Superficial Introduction to Panchmahabhoot :

Space

Air

Fire

Water

Earth

The five mystic elements in the order of creation are Space, Air, Fire, Water and Earth have been very well described in many Hindu and Buddhist scriptures. According to Bhagavat Gita, Astrology and Vaastu Sastra, these five elements are responsible for all living and non-living things in the universe. In Hindi Agni, Prithvi, Jal, Akash, Vayu are all abbreviated as “Apjav”. It has been mentioned in Ayurveda that all the objects in the universe are made up in combination of any these five basic elements

Space :

Space is a zone around our planet where there is no air to breathe or scatter light and hence it can be imagined as a magical area. Space ignites spiritual awareness and opportunities. Silhouettes such as mermaid, wrap and ball gown has been implemented to add grace to the garment. Fabric manipulations like cut work, patch work, gathers along with ornamentation techniques such as appliqué work, sequences, beads, crystals and mirrors are incorporated to signify the depth of space. The theme ranges its color palette from hues of black, white, and grey to holographic shades of pink, blue, purple. Net, organza, velvet, and printed fabric have been chosen to portray this important element of nature.

Air :

Air is invisible yet essential and it is directly linked to 'Anahata' which is the heart chakra and the sense of touch. The silhouette chosen are desire line formation to capture the sense of streamlined motion to convey a feeling of Speed and efficiency. Trapezoid, Drop waist and A-line silhouettes are used. Colors that are being used are shades of beige and brown. Transparent fabrics like Tissue and Organza are used to describe the transparency of air and the base fabric used is Raw silk. Smocking, pin-tucks, floating details along with panels and stockings are the manipulation techniques implemented in this collection to display an illusion of air. Headgears made-up of metal wires and cords have been developed to create a complete look.

Fire :

"Out of the hottest fire comes the strongest steel"
 Here's a collection representing Fire, a pure form of energy that is in constant habitual use. Fire is the powerful force of nature that has both dangerous and beneficial effects on human life. The flame is the visible portion of the fire. Even now, there are many ways to utilize fire. Inspired by the discovery and usage of fire since the prehistoric eras, this theme showcases Empire line, tent and tunic silhouette which are embellished with uneven burnt effect, stone as well as bead work and couching techniques. To unveil the nature of fire tints and shades of Yellow, Orange and Red has been incorporated which symbolizes hope, courage, and power. Manipulation techniques with multiple strip of fabric placed in circular vertical and wavering form, in shades of fire. In order to highlight the effect of fire, glass organza and Velvet have been implemented. Beaded accessories and headgears have been created to provide a complete ensemble.

Water :

In our physical world, water is as efficient as gravity is unforgiving. An indisputable law of physics states that water always finds the lowest. It demonstrates that one should be flexible, adaptable and persistent enough while executing their responsibility. The silhouettes Trumpet and A-line implemented in this collection represents the dynamic quality of water to shape itself according to any object it is stored. The techniques such as Pin tucks, gathers, uneven layers, has been used as an inspiration to depict the rational flow of water, turbulent form of water, steady and serenity of the waves respectively. A fabric manipulating technique of cutwork along with sheared denims describes the appearance of the waves just after a heavy tide. A realistic touch has been achieved on the garments by using liquid organza, taffeta, glaze cotton, net and hard satin in the shades of blue and green along with shells, corals, pearls etc. to portray the underwater life.

Earth

Earth :

The collection draws inspiration from the five elements 'Panchmahabhutas' with focus on the Earth element. We have incorporated Stone, Flowers, Dry Leaves, Insects, Mountain, Flower to represent planet Earth. The silhouette communicates the H- line and flared silhouette exuberant feature of every desired component. Each outfit emphasizes particular component of Earth. Non-wearable garments have been designed as per the inspiration taken. The color palate revolves around various shades of brown & green depicting wood, insect, leaves, stone, mountain where as tints of pink depicts flower along with embellishments techniques such as 3-Dimensional effects, gathers, and tie-dye. Each element of Earth conveys a particular message highlighting its unique feature and emphasizing the dual nature, vibrant beauty, importance of time, rebel, and beauty with diversity.
